"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
(By Spectator)

Ottawa, Sept. 29th. With war and peace still trembling in the balance the international crisis remains the subject of engrossing interest in Parliament Hill. Except for its expression of wholehearted approval when Mr. Chamberlain began his faithful conversations with Mr. Hitler in Germany and the statement that if he broke out parliament would be promptly summoned and recommendations placed before the government has remained silent. It receives from the government in London full reports of changes which are taking place in the dark clouded republic of Czechoslovakia and of the desperate struggle being carried on by the British government to keep the world at peace. In unofficial Ottawa as elsewhere in the Dominion there is in evidence the spirit of opinion in regard to the situation, the uncertainty about the negotiable sacrifices that the little republic of central Europe has been called upon to make, doubts and fears about the aims of the dictators now and hereafter, the harassing question whether even with present success the foundation of peace can be made secure. But there is no difference of opinion about the appalling "alternative" to present sacrifices. The spectre of war is so formidable, with such unimaginable possibilities, that however difficult may be viewed, lead on the treatment of young republic of Czechoslovakia by those pledged to support aggression, the people of the capital of Canada as well as of British Columbia month capital hope and pray Mr. Chamberlain's peace mission may be successful. At the time of writing the air is charged with uneasiness and anxiety than on the eve of the great war because since that critical hour in August, 1914, the world has learned the bitter lesson of the failure of day airforce have increased the mental horrors of conflict.

The suggestion of Mr. Aberhart, Premier of Alberta, that all the provinces should meet together to discuss Dominion-Provincial relations has not met with much enthusiasm. Ottawa was to take no part in these discussions. The Rowell Commission which has been making a nation wide investigation of Dominion-Provincial relations has never met with the approval of Mr. Aberhart. Although the Chairman, Justice N. W. Rowell has been ill for some time, the other members of the Commission and their advisors have been carrying on the work towards a conclusion. What will result from the efforts of the Commission is uncertain. It has met with considerable criticism from various quarters but it has essayed a tremendous and important task. There is no question that the findings of the Commission when available will form a most valuable foundation for discussion between Dominion and provincial authorities. It has been frequently stated by the Dominion government that there is no intention on the part of the central authority to force their views upon the provinces. The approval of the provinces would be an essential to any change resulting from the Rowell Commission's investigations. The probe into a machine gun contract made by the Department of National Defence with the John Inglis Co. of Toronto was started last week before Judge Davis of the Supreme Court. It was postponed for a few days and is now being resumed. The inquiry will be carried out thoroughly and promptly in the department. In view of the troubled situation abroad, the public to be reassured and to have all suspicions removed.

King's Holiday Ends -- Consults With Ministers

The Admiralty Tuesday night announced the immediate mobilization of the entire Royal Navy. The announcement said the decision was made "as a purely precautionary measure". If Hitler is convinced that invasion of Czechoslovakia would lead to war, into which England would be drawn, peace may prevail, observers say. In the meantime the lords of the admiralty are prepared for any necessary action. Live ammunition is carried by the fleet on manoeuvres.

The troubled situation in Europe, naturally disturbing to industry, has been a factor in holding up the trade treaty with the United States. Some time ago it was predicted that the treaty would be signed before the end of September. There is still a slight margin of time left, but it is likely that two or three more weeks will elapse before final agreement is reached. The negotiations have been made intricate and difficult because of their triangular nature. It hasn't been simply Canada negotiating with the United States but the United States with Great Britain as well with each treaty having a direct bearing on the other. Great Britain will make concessions in tariff rates on some products of the United States which means Canadian exporters will need additional competition in British markets. For these concessions Canada will expect compensation in tariff rates in the United States. Negotiations "are being going on for months."

beyond the East the sunrise, beyond the West the sun,
And East and West the wanderer think that will not let me be;
It works in me like madness, dear, to bid me say good-bye;
For the sea call and the stars call, and oh! the call of the sky!

I know not where the white road runs, nor what the blue hills are, But a man can have the sun for friend, and for his guide a star;
And there's no end of voyaging when once the voice is heard:
For the river calls and the road calls, and oh! the call of a bird!

Yonder the long horizon lies, and there by night and day
The old ships draw to home again, the young ships sail away;
And come I may, but go I must, and if men ask you why,
You may put the blame on the stars and the sun and the white road and the sky.

A FARMER'S MUSINGS

(By Tim Longbotham)

Have a Smile

A bright idea dawned on an unlikely son of the soil when he was informed by his elevator man that his inventory wouldn't cover the numerous items against it.

"Look here, George," he exclaimed, "put all the names in your list and pay off the guys according to the draw."

At this unique proposal the negro landlord shook his head whereupon the farmer entered his old list with this parting remark:

"Put it up any way you like, then; I don't mind working for them lords but I'll be damned if I'm gonna fight for them too."

Give Them a Show

Although the few 30 bushel crops throughout the country are receiving tremendous amount of publicity very much is being said about the more numerous 10 and 12 bushel crops.

Gross returns of $6.00 to $7.00 an acre will barely cover the cost of operating, but knowledge of this fact has prevented many seizures in the dry areas.

In this respect the provincial government has been the chief offender, and it is to be hoped that the report being made on behalf of the farmers will be considered in a generous mood.

If not, members of the Cabinet should cease their outstaring about the farmers being oppressed by the big shots. It makes no difference to the men on the land who separate them from their crops; the results are the same and all the honored words in the Anglo-Saxon language can alter none facts.

Shy on Game Birds

If there is a shortage of Hungarian partridge throughout many districts of the West as now reported in the daily press the farmers themselves must accept the responsibility.

Hauling away sacksful of the game birds couldn't last forever, and the logical thing to do now would be to either shorten the season for a number of years, or shut down entirely until the situation is remedied.

Apart from their cheerful and sporting nature, the birds are good friends of western agriculturists.

When an old hen partridge and her brood get to know where grasshoppers are plentiful, it doesn't take them very long to destroy large numbers of the winged pests.

It is quite true that they eat some wheat, but they show a marked preference for hard seeds of various kinds, so that their general usefulness more than offsets any damage they may do.

Hitter and Chamberlain

Being Prime Minister of Britain is no cinch even in settled times, and when trouble arises in any part of the world, the man who occupies this position has many things to endure. At the time of visiting Mr. Chamberlain is discussing the Czech situation with the German leader, and his efforts to preserve peace are making him the target for many ill timed remarks.

Foreign critics, in particular, are accusing him of betraying the Czech republic, but since their own governments have been quite inactive, they should either acknowledge the cold truth or pipe down for good.

The present squabble, with its far reaching effects could not have taken place and the treaty of Versailles been founded on the principles of fair play. When the Sudeten territory was made part of the newly formed republic the racial character of the people of that region was forgotten in the desire to give the Czechs an easily defended frontier.

Apart from these things, Britain has no treaty obligations in central Europe and it would be the height of folly to waste the national strength in that quarter when it is going to be required for the inevitable clash in the Mediterranean.

It is possible, however, that Hitler's demands may prove too much for the British Premier to accept, and the international situation would then become a doubly dangerous to the peace of the whole world.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

(By Tim Longbotham)

The Prairies can still produce wheat in abundance. Normal rains this season fell almost everywhere; and wherever good rains occurred, average yields appeared, even in the drought and soil-brown areas.

Rust, after 5,000 years of effort, at last we believe and hope, has been conquered. Production, therefore, it seems safe to say, on the average, over a term of years is assured.

Now, however, for the first time in 51 years, a such more serious problem raises its head. Can we sell the wheat we produce?

Mr. Broomhall estimates that we will come far short this year of selling our surplus. Yet our very economic existence in the West depends, it seems to me, upon selling all the wheat we normally grow. To induce world buyers to purchase all we are producing, I am forced to conclude, we must try for two things—

First to improve the quality of our wheat; and secondly for all of us to get together to strive unceasingly to persuade the Dominion Government to reduce tariffs, all so that foreign people can sell more of their own goods in Canada, and by this obtain more Canadian dollars.

With more Canadian dollars, these foreign people would be able to buy more Canadian and other wheat which authorities tell us, their undernourished people badly need.

MARQUIS WHEAT

LOSING GROUND

In 1926 Marquis wheat occupied 59.4 percent of the total area seeded to wheat in the three Prairie Provinces. This last spring however, only 54.4 percent was seeded to Marquis, all as shown by a survey of the "Distribution of wheat varieties in Western Canada recently" by the Research Department of the Searle Grain Company Ltd.

Marquis has lost ground to the rust-resistant wheats—"Chatter", and to a slight extent to the still newer rust-resistant sorts, Renown and Apex. The tendency for the replacement of Marquis by these rust-resistant sorts is still going on, however, at a rapid pace. It is probable, therefore, that after next seeding, while Marquis will still be the dominant wheat in Western Canada, the percentage of land seeded to this notable variety will be considerably less than 50 percent.

Namaka

With ideal harvest weather prevailing all week, threshing will be nearing completion in the course of 10 or 12 days. Average wheat yield is from 15 to 20 bushels per acre.

Mrs. Mackie and Mrs. Johnson, entertained on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Johnson in honor of Mrs. Wooster who has been visiting old friends in the district. Sixteen ladies were present and a jolly old time reigned. Mrs. Wooster left Friday for Calgary where she will spend a week with her daughter Marjorie, before leaving for her home in Cloverdale.

The sympathy of their friends go out to Mr. and Mrs. Dirks in the loss of their daughter Hertha who passed away on Wednesday, Sept. 21st.

We are glad to report Mrs. Peterson who was injured by a fall is improving satisfactorily.

We are pleased to note Bobby Watts who has been under the weather is feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. John Janzen are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter born Saturday morning.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Dells on Thursday, Oct. 5th.

GLORIFY SAFETY

Is too much publicity being given to the reckless driver?
 In some sections there is a conviction that greater stress should be laid on the records of the "reckless" driver, and what safe driving accomplishes. To this the Cleveland Club has concurred the idea of a 100,000 mile club, membership consisting of having travelled that mileage without a major accident—one in which damage or personal injury exceeds $25. Members will be given a special insignia for their auto.

This is a major step in a new direction towards cutting down accidents and is highly laudable. We are not fearing the results of another world war while still petrified thinking of the last, and yet an American officer of the law shows that there are more fatal highway accidents in one year than there were deaths of soldiers of all nationalities in four years of the World War.

Such a statement should improve on us the necessity of making our roads safer to drive on. The Cleveland Club has taken a major step. Let others follow.

AS HITLER SEES IT
 From the Translator's Speech
 The Suletan problem is the last demand which I have to make from Europe, but it is a question which I will not yield.

Today there is only one statement, my great friend, Benito Mussolini. Benito agreed that these territories would have to be ceded.

I am grateful to Mr. Chamberlain. I have assured him that the German nation want nothing but peace. I have given Chamberlain my word that when this problem is solved there shall be no more territorial difficulties.

I have voluntarily offered never again to compete with the English navy. We have only one interest now, this is—work in peace.

SUCCESS

Success is attending the efforts of the Montmartre Pass Highway Association—one of the most unique community effort groups in Canada's history. Living in the Peace River district, they decided that they needed an outlet to the Pacific coast, and when the Government refused to assist, they stepped in on their own and started building 132 miles of road into the north.

Good luck to this courageous group. We hope they'll get there.

Rockyford

There have been many changes in tenants for the rented house of Rockyford. The McRobbie house is now tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor the new mechanic from Griffiths garage, while Mr. and Mrs. Clarke are now located in the Parish & Heimbecker house. Mr. and Mrs. Art Dunsmore have rented the Howick on second street and will be taking up their residence from the first of the month.

The people from Rockyford were roused from their peaceful Sunday evening reveries on the 25th when a call came from Rosebud for help in fighting a fire which had broken out in the Vallery home. Many from here and Standard were soon at the scene but the Vallery house and machine shop and Mr. Lester Cox's Pool room were beyond saving, but with the efficient help of the townspeople and neighbors they were able to save the Cox house and thus prevented the fire from doing much more damage. As there was a heavy wind later in the evening the fire fighters had a long vigil to prevent the further spread. Both buildings had a small amount of insurance only Mr. Vallery and his hand burned and had to have first aid.

Mrs. N. McLean has just returned from Calgary where she spent most of last week visiting her sister who is there from Vancouver and other friends from Calgary. Mrs. E. Macdonald also spent part of last week in Calgary visiting relatives.

Mr. Alphonse Stinn had the misfortune to smash his three fingers in the grain loader of the threshing machine on Saturday last. He was taken to Calgary Hospital and had his fingers sewn up. He hopes to be home soon but will be unable to work for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Dunsmore are the proud parents of a fine baby boy born on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th. Both mother and baby are doing well in a hospital in Calgary.

The regular meeting of the Rockyford Ladies Aid Society met at the church parlors on Thursday afternoon Sept. 22nd, with the President Mrs. G. Funnery in the chair. The business of the day consisted of arrangements for the annual food supper which is held each year in connection with the anniversary services of the church. The

TODAY'S FASHION

(By VERA WINSTON)

KNITTED SUITS—master than ever, and the fashion-wise girl, especially if she lives in the suburbs, will do well to choose one of these suits. She will find that a model of the type depicted here will become the backbone of her wardrobe. This suit combines navy and dark red effectively. The knit jacket has a square neck and yoke, the latter being outlined with the dark red jersey that makes the skirt. The pockets are also outlined with the dark red jersey. The knit of the cardigan is navy and red with a touch of green. The striped effect is emphasized on the yoke where it is used horizontally. The skirt has an inverted box pleat centre front and two side pleats on either side of it.

ladies are preparing for a busy time. The church board have been able to secure the services of Rev. Dr. Powell Sept. of Missions for the anniversary services. These usually are held about the end of October.

We are pleased to see Mr. J. C. Busch of the C.P.R. able to walk about again after his accident of last week when he hurt his foot while out at his work.

Miss Wanda Knapp had a company over the week end Mrs. T. S. Hughes of Strathmore. Miss Knapp went back with her friend to say goodbye to her brother Harrison who left on Sunday for Edmonton where he starts his university course.

Miss Edna Cammarie left on Monday morning's train for Edmonton where she will be taking up her first year of University work.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

THE SPORTS LEDGER

Bronze Trim Eskimos—

Leaving their recent defeats with out any depressing effects the Calgary Bronces came right up to form, defeating the Capital Grinders 16-3. The Bronces crew showed strength in every department to take early command of the game and hold it through out. Local fans noticed a great improvement in the teamwork from every angle. The Eskimos also showed improvement over their last showing in the Southern City.

Loss Great Star
 Canadian Sportsmen and particularly the Grid fans mourn the loss of one of the finest sportsmen and rugby backfielders in Canadian ranks. Ormand Beach who performed with the Bronces Imperial was killed in an oil tank explosion in the city Wednesday, Sept. 21st. Carl Cronin in paying tribute said "Canadian football cannot afford to lose men like Beach. Everybody connected with football in Canada knew Beach as a fine sportsman."

Big World Series
 According to Ed Harrow at the Yankee office the World Series for the year will draw a large attendance. Unofficially reservations have been taken out ever since Sept. 9th.

At present the record attendance at a single game is 66,669 or a cash collection of a measly $241,000. This attendance was in the October battle of 1926 between the Yanks and the Giants.

A person is shown working in a pool elevator, which was patented by the inventor and covered by his exclusive patent. The elevator is designed to be used in pools and is a valuable addition to any pool.
